Student Council To Sponsor Red Cross Drive

Plans Formulated During Special Meeting Mar. 5

Got a dime, mister, or a dollar to buy yourself a share of humanity preferred?

There won't be a limit to the purchase, and no ceiling price. Not when the Student Council begins its drive in behalf of the Red Cross late this week or early in the next.

It all began at a meeting of the Council last Friday night. The Rev. Rufus Esser, C.PP.S., member of the Jasper County Welfare Committe in addition to his duties as professor, brought the plan to the fore.

Council Decide Drive

Father Esser stated the aims of the Red Cross drive and stressed the great work done by that group, especially in these days. He then left the room while Council members discussed, and voted upon, the possibility of conducting a benefit drive on the campus.

Tuesday afternoon the Council met again. From this meeting grew their plan for canvassing each residence hall on the campus. Jiggs Huysman and Dick Schreiber will have charge of Drexel; Pete Varini has Gaspar; Bob Steinmetz has Noll; Stan Lapsys, Tom Scollard, and Gil Hodges have Seifert.

Town Night For Hall

The drive itself will begin next Monday, March 15, and close the following Friday. A general town night will be given the hall which contributes the largest proportional amount. Since the halls have a highly varied number of occupants, the hall night will be granted on the percentage basis.

Buttons and membership cards will be given all those who make a donation. Their names will also be included on the list of contributors. This list will be forwarded by the Rensselaer Red Cross Chapter to the national headquarters in Washington.

Fisk Singers Will Appear Here In Musical Program

* * * * * *

MELODIES FROM THE DEEP SOUTH will live again on the stage of the College Theatre March 17 when the Fisk Jubilee Singers appear here. For seven decades the Fisk Singers have carried the songs of their ancesters to audiences all over the United States.

An evening of delightful and colorful negro spiritual interpretations is promised when the Jubilee Singers of Fisk University make their appearance in the College Theatre, Mar. 17.

With a repertoire of spirituals embracing the beloved older songs, as well as ones which have only recently been found in southern camp meetings, the Fisk Singers have won the constant acclaim of many eminent musicians, including the famous Walter Damrosch.

The present group of Jubilee Singers, under the direction of Mrs. James A Myers, is the direct descendant of the group of singers which went forth from Fisk University in 1871 to raise funds for its financially failing school.

Sang For President

Highly successful in this undertaking, the original singers and their descendants have been received in the White House by the President of the United States, have sung before Queen Victoria, the Emperor of Germany, the King and Queen of Holland, Gladstone, and the Earl of Shaftesbury.

Acclaimed by musicians as the finest vocal ensemble of the Negro race, the Fisk Singers should provide a very entertaining evening of song and should be a "must see" on the program of activities.

CLS Organization Stages New Play Next Sunday Night

By VINCENT GIESE

Collegeville will get what it has long waited for next Sunday evening, Mar. 14, when the Columbian Literary Society and three young ladies from nearby C.Y.O. units unite to present Joseph Kesselring's great horror-comedy, Arsenic and Old Lace, under the direction of the Rev. Dr. Paul Speckbaugh, C.PP.S., in the College Theatre.

Things will happen on the stage next Sunday evening in a Brooklyn setting, which theatre-goers will have to see to believe. For it is not everyday that nice, charitable old maids poison homeless old men, nor is it everyday that a lunatic, who is convinced that he is Teddy Roosevelt, buries bodies in his own cellar with military and presidential flourishes.

Good Social Comedy

But more than "being full of chuckles even when it is gruesome by nature" Kesselring's masterpiece is a striking example of the social comedy. The entire theme of this "most riotously, hilarious comedy of the season," as Watts of the Herald-Tribune calls it, is a throwback on real life.

Pretty Joan Wood, Rensselaer veteran of several past C.L.S. productions, will be in one of the three prominent female leads as Elaine Harper, daughter of a minister and fiancee of Mortimer.

In the male leads Romain Wilhelmsen will portray the sinister, cruel Jonathan Brewester, played by Boris Karloff in the original performance, and Jack Jutt will be

Science Club Plans Demonstration Day

Preparations for the second annual Science Day Exhibit are now underway according to John B. Keehner, president of the Albertus Magnus Society which in conjunction with the faculty produces the annual presentation.

"Science in War" will be the title of this year's exhibit, which will be staged on Sunday, April 18, in Science Hall. The exhibit will emphasize science in relation to the war effort. Demonstrations illustrating the use of science in the war industry will be shown in the various laboratories.

OWI Announces Order Of Navy Reserves Call

From the Office of War Information, Washington, comes the long-awaited schedule for calling college naval reserves to active duty.

In general, collge students in the V-1, V-5, V-7, of the Marine Corps Reserve Class 3 (d), will be called to active duty about July 1, the Navy Department reports. At the same time the Navy College Training Program will begin.

V-1 college students will be tested near the end of their sophomore year, and the ones who fail the test will be ordered to general enlisted service.

In the same release from the O. W. I. was the notice that Army Enlisted Reserve Corps Students who have asked for Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard service may be discharged from the Army when called. They will then be enrolled in the branch of service they requested.

Students requesting such a change in the branch of their service will be called to active duty on July 1 when other naval reservists are called.

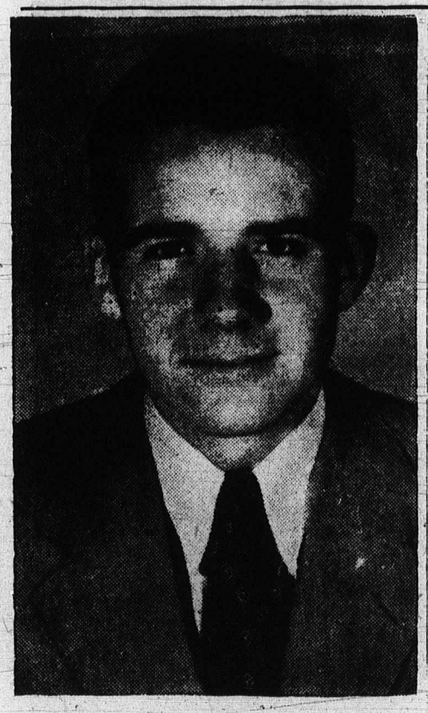
Publication Date Not Definite For Measure

Francis Kinney, editor of Measure, campus literary journal, announces that although the date of plublication of the spring edition is somewhat indefinite, the magazne should be ready for press by the latter part of March.

Difficulties in printing because of war conditions may alter this date somewhat, although all copy will be ready for the printers by the last week in March.

All those now working on manuscripts for the present edition are requested to have their copy into the editor by March 6. This will greatly facilitate the preparations of the copy for the press.

John Dunn Will Guide Raleigh Smoking Club This Semester



Members of the Raleigh Smoking Club gathered in the clubrooms Monday night to hold their annual election. On the fourth ballot John Dunn, sophomore from Crawfordsville, Ind., was elected to the presidency, succeeding Bill Smith, Louisville senior.

Dunn, who is also president of the sophomore class, will guide the Raleigh Club for two semesters.

Filling the other elective posts are Gil Hodges, Petersburg, Ind., vice-president; and Paul Brunton, Decatur, Ind. secretary. Hodges follows Charley Klapheke, who graduated at the semester and is now in Naval Officers' Training School; Brunton succeeds John Keehner, Youngstown, Ohio, senior.

All senior members of the club, who are entitled to keys, will receive them in the near future, possibly at the next meeting, according to retiring secretary Keehner.

Fr. Guillozet Designs New Magazine Stands

During the past week or so the Reverend Edmund Guillozet, C.PP.S., has been working on the new magazine racks which will be placed in the library. The first is at present complete and should appear in the library shortly.

The new racks are quite a novelty and should accommodate between forty and fifty magazines. Father Guillozet is at present working on four more racks which will be placed in the library upon completion.

Campus Prepares for Lenten Season in War-Torn World

The penitential spirit of the Holy Season of Lent came to the campus today with the observance of Ash Wednesday.

Lent this year will perhaps bear a stronger and much more important significance than it has in years past because of the general state of uncertainty shared by the majority of the students. Many will undoubtedly be "going to bat" for the last time as St. Joe men, which should certainly be a strong incentive to make this season of penance one which may be looked back upon with complete satisfaction.

In this diocese the obligation of fast and abstinence will not be binding due to obvious food shortages. All were most earnestly urged to replace these mortifications with some other form of penance, by the Rev. Dr. Joseph Hiller, C.PP.S., in his sermon Sunday.

Daily Mass and Holy Communion are top resolutions. Rolling out at seven o'clock really isn't so hard once one gets used to it. Or for those who like those few extra winks, there is an eight o'clock Mass immediately after breakfast each morning.

The DRIFT

(Editorial)

This morning Lent began. It is the season for repentance, for privation, for atonement of small and large misdeeds. It is above everything else a solemn season. Because of conditions brought about by the war, the ordinary regulations of fasting and abstinence were absolved this year. And yet this relaxing of the regulations in no way lessens the obligation which exists to fulfill the spirit of the lenten observance.

A late Mass is being said at eight o'clock every morning in the College Chapel. Evening Benediction and prayers are being said at the same time they are said every night of the year. The chapel doors stand wide, day and night. There is no limit to the opportunities for each one's personal observance of Lent.

Over and above the formal devotions which are available, there is an even greater number of informal, spontaneous ways of keeping the Lenten spirit. That Sunday afternoon show—as much a habit as anything else—could be eliminated. Trying to be just a trifle more charitable in our relations with other students would have a remarkable, dual effect: promoting both spiritual and material well being. Be an opportunist for the coming six weeks. Take advantage of as many ways of observing the Lenten season as come your way.

Late this week, or early in the following week, there will be a Red Cross drive on the campus. It will be sponsored by the Student Council, and every man is going to be asked to do his part.

The world owes much to the organization which travels under the banner of the red cross. It has been a symbol for kindness, sympathy, and active charity for many years. People have known its work in time of floods and fires and wars. Wherever there is disaster, ther, too, is the Red Cross.
disaster, there, too, is the Red Cross.

Today the Red Cross serves many great, tablish an effective contact between families and their men, who are with the armed forces. And it renders these services without cost.

Perhaps you already have seen the Red Cross at work. It is certain that not too many tomorrows will pass before you shall. Keep that thought in mind when you are approached for support in the local Red Cross drive. No one can be too generous.

Following the Flickers

With Dick Schreiber

FOR ONCE THE EXPERTS were right. They thought that Greer Garson and Jimmy Cagney should have an Oscar each for their memorable performances in "Mrs. Miniver" and "Yankee Doodle Dandy," respectively. And so did the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences who made the presentations late last week.

Charming, youthful Greer Garson has endeared herself to millions of movie-goers just by being herself, which is the greatest gift of all. Her performances have outshined the "glamor girls" and the lassies rated high in the "oomph" department.

Cagney, on the other hand, is quite unpredictable. He has played everything from tough man to simple Irish lads. And he does either remarkably well. Perhaps it was because he started his own career as a song-and-dance man that he was able to read so very much into the role of George Michael Cohan.

Most everyone is agreed: the Oscars could hardly have been more deservingly awarded.

Now for the reviews.

RITZ: Friday & Saturday

"China Girl" stars Gene Tierney, Lynn Bari, George Montgomery and Vic MacLaglen. This purports to be quite a dramatic bit, but it must be weakened considerably by Miss Tierney, who has what it takes in the looks department but falls short on the acting. Montgomery and MacLaglen carry their burden fairly well in nearly all their pictures. Legion Rating: A-2.

RITZ: Sunday Through Tuesday

Here's another of those pictures you've been waiting for. "The Pride of the Yankees" has Gary Cooper, Walter Brennan, Teresa Wright, and Babe Ruth. This is the life story of the late Lou Gehrig, powerfully done by a fine cast. Watch for Teresa Wright in particular. She turns in a very good performance. The Rensselaer Theatre Corporation brings you "The Pride of the Yankees" at no advance in prices. Put it on your list of things to do. Legion Rating: A-1.

PALACE: Sunday Through Thursday

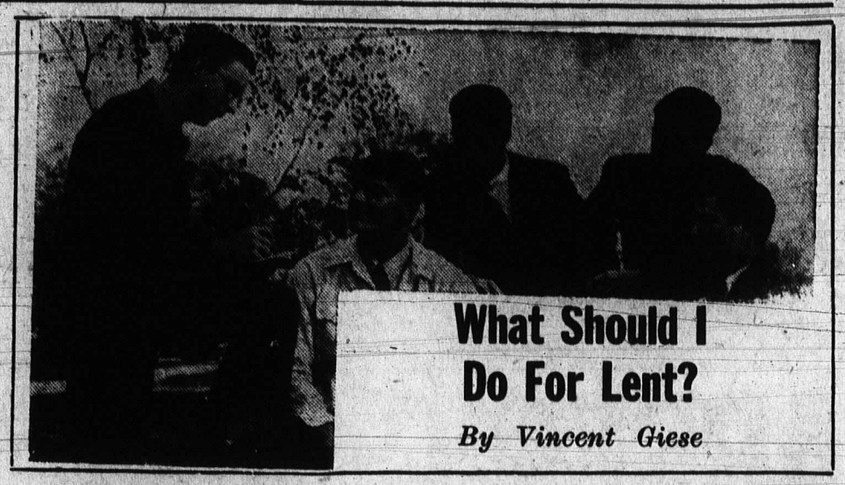
Jack Benny, Rochester, and Priscilla Lane are together in "The Meanest Man in the World." Rochester is funny; Benny, too often, isn't. Miss Lane just went along for the ride. Legion Rating: A-2.

RITZ: Wednesday & Thursday

"Johnny Doughboy" is a simple tale with Jane Withers and Henry Wilcoxon. If you don't mind Jane's tantrums you may like this. It is a diverting afternoon. Little more. Legion Rating: A-1.

CAMPUS CAPERS

Bill Smith advised Corpuscle Hoffmann to face opponent Sam Husted and not to stand sideways because by so doing he will practically become invisible and hence take unfair advantage of Smokin' Sam . . . The seconds, John Keehner and Hemo Kauffmann, were willing to cover all bets. Adelbert Weber was the man of the hour when he received a round of applause at his first impromptu oration in the refectory . . . Father Baechle scrutinized Sky Pilot's ham bone to see if there was meat on it. What were you going to do with the meat had there been any, Father? LeRoy Huenefeld claims that the most of the Chi (not shy) girls were winking at him. He couldn't see why. We don't either, but maybe it was his hat. The only good thing we know as coming from Harvard, Ill., is an electric milking machine. John McCabe found that in the Chicago museum. Jack Haley heads the list of all the income tax worriers. He does enough worrying for all the students. Paul Mainzer is going around telling everybody that the picture of the girl on Bill Steckschulte's desk is his. He claims he let Bill use it . . . William (Lonely) Miller receives now and then a few postcards from his pals on the campus. The boys hate to see him suffer so . . . Tom (Wavy) Bestudik has a gleam in his eye these days. His hair has grown out, and he says that he is back in circulation. Oh, well, some fellows have hope in life . . . Al Prosser reminds us of the song "Rosy (Nosy) The Riveter." (Editors' note—one of the two columnists shouldn't be talking.) . . . It seems that Ted Swierczek is always worried about exams. Maybe he doesn't get enough of them . . . Romain Wilhelmsen confines his letter writing to Movie Actresses. The pitiful part of the whole thing is that he hasn't received an answer from any of them. We guess it must be his picture to them . . . Vandy is dragging poor old Ritter by the hair. We can't see why he does that.



What Should I Do For Lent?

By Vincent Giese

Yesterday was Ash Wednesday. With it Lent began. Because of the difficult times, the usually prescribed Lenten regulations have been relaxed.

However, this relaxation does not imply that we no longer need to keep the proper spirit of Lent. It rather implies that we do something extra this year of our own accord. We are praying to God for so much this year. Wouldn't it be fitting that we make a few denials, or at least a few positive resolutions, to show Him that we are deserving of all we are asking of Him?

This week STUFF approached the students and asked them what they suggest the students should do this Lent. Here are the answers:

Paul Kingsede, freshman from Sidney, Ohio, "The season of Lent offers spiritual opportunities to us to obtain grace through the practice of penances. Besides performing penances on the negative basis, i.e. through self-denial, it would be a good idea to do penances on a positive basis, such as working and studying a little harder."

John Nyeste, freshman from Akron, Ohio, "Students this year should try to attend daily Mass and receive daily Communion. At least we all could attend more frequently the Lenten devotions and Benediction, or make the stations. It wouldn't hurt to show a little more manliness at the table by not trying to be a glutton."

Norman Hemmelgarn, freshman from Burkettsville, Ohio, "This Lent it would be a good idea to go to church more often, especially Benediction. Or we could do a little more religious reading and leave the lighter reading matter alone. Some of us could give up some of our radio programs; in that manner we would be able to concentrate a little more on our studies and thus benefit ourselves."

Marvin Huber, freshman from Burkettsville (200), Ohio, "I think we should try to do some of those little things that we have been neglecting: Going to Mass, getting to meals on time, being more friendly toward our fellow students, and staying awake in class. Practising little things is far better than floundering over big things."

Senior Sketches

By Don Leavitt

Meet John M. Murphy, a man who likes sciences so much that his whole schedule consists of science courses only—Chemistry, Physics, Geology and Biology. Murph, as he is more popularly known, says he has spent half of his three and a half years at St. Joe in the laboratories, and after seeing his schedule we are inclined to agree with him.

Although Murph now makes his home in Peoria, Illinois, he was born in Odell, Oct. 25, 1921, and graduated from Farmer City high school where he was a three-sport man. At St. Joseph's, however, Murphy has confined his athletic ability to baseball, playing Puma second sacker for three years, and ping-pong, in which sport he recently copped the Raleigh Club tournament title.

Also a four-year member of both the Raleigh and Monogram Clubs, when he isn't busy with his other activities he finds time to work on his thesis, "A Dissertation on Protein." (It's got me guessing too!)

After graduation in June, Murphy will leave St. Joseph's with a Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry to put on the blue of his rich uncle's Navy, for he is enrolled in the V-7 reserve corps. After the war is over, Murphy intends to spend the rest of his life in laboratories as a research chemist.

COLLEGE TO CONTINUE SPRING SPORTS

Hold Inter-Hall Net Finals Thursday Night

Puma Prints

By Jim Welter

Joe Mikan, who has been substituting as a center on this year's cage squad, found himself in a new position against Illinois Wesleyan last Wednesday night. With Don Schrenk riding the bench because of injuries, Coach Dienhart put the push-shot artist on the floor as a guard. Joe collected only three points, but reports from Bloomington say that his floorwork offset his scoring deficiency.

* * * *

The greatest upset of the inter-hall basketball schedule was registered last week when Noll, winners only over Xavier, defeated Seifert, 41-39. The loss was costly for Seifert, too, for it permitted the Drexel and Gaspar teams to move into first place.

* * * *

When Jack Welsh and Harold Horst scored twenty-nine and twenty-four points, respectively, for Seifert against Xavier, it marked the setting of the two highest individual scoring records for this season in inter-hall competition.

* * * *

Charles and Gil Hodges, Petersburg, Ind., sophomores, are now rivals in the coaching profession. Charlie Guides the Academy sophomore basketball players, while Gil supervises the freshmen. In a contest played last Sunday morning, Charlie's protegees scored a close victory over brother Gil's freshies.

* * * *

There will be no winners in the second semester intramural basketball leagues of the Drexel, Gaspar, and Seifert halls. The teams have been unable to play enough games for one round. The tournament, however, will supply a championship five.

* * * *

Proof that St. Joe's cagers encountered tough opposition this season—four of the sixteen teams which are entered in the national intercollegiate tournament at Kansas City met the Pumas on the court this season. Indiana State, Valparaiso, Loyola, and Illinois Wesleyan provided St. Joseph's with seven games, of which the Pumas won three.

* * * *

Coach Dienhart says that there will be spring football practice. It will not get underway, however, until the weather is warm enough to permit all drills to be held outside.

Fieldhouse Scene Of Heated Games; Cubs Participate

Tomorrow night, (Thursday) will be the climax for two intramural basketball tournaments. The fieldhouse will be the scene of the finals of the Academy tournament at 7:30 and the college inter-hall play-offs at 8:30.

Since Drexel and Gaspar finished the league race in a tie for first place, they naturally rate as the teams to beat. Seifert, an early season powerhouse, also looms as a strong contender for the coveted crown.

Seifert's intra-hall tournament will be played Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week. Drexel and Gaspar will battle it out to see who is superior next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

Season Closes March 20

The I-M basketball season will come to a close with the Noll playoffs on March 19-20. All inter-hall games are being played in the fieldhouse as are the finals of the intra-hall tourneys.

Raleigh Club Awards Tournament Prizes

Vasco Luchi, Ed Biersack, Gil Hodges, Bill Steckschulte, and J. M. Murphy were the winners of the Raleigh Club Tournament conducted from Feb. 24 to Mar. 4.

Luchi defeated John Jeske for the rotation pool title. Steckschulte was a finalist in three different divisions of the tourney. Biersack stopped him in snooker, and Gil Hodges won out in the billiards championship match. He came back. however, to defeat Jeske and thus capture the fifty-ball pool crown. Hodges was disposed of by Murphy in the ping-pong finals.

Pumas Close Basketball Season By Beating Ill. Wesleyan, Peru

Although outscored from the field, the Pumas collected eight free throws more and thus defeated Illinois Wesleyan, 37-33, last Wednesday night. This victory, the second of the season over the Titans was won on the Wesleyan court.

None of the players collected enough points to boast about, but Bernie Hoffman and Bill Patton, Titan center, did lead their respective teams with nine points apiece. Jiggs Huysman and Dick Krouse each gathered eight.

St. Joseph's cage team ended their seasons's schedule at the .500 mark when they drubbed the Peru Naval Air Station, 50-34, last night at Peru. Last Feb. 24 the Navy quintet was the victim of a Puma 49-30 onslaught.

Seventeen players saw service and sixteen scored. Bernie Hoffman gathered the most points, although it was only nine. Capt. Joe Platt led the losers with seven.

For Capt. Bernie Hoffman, Connie Vanderkolk, Curly Wisniewski, and Ed Ritter this was the last contest under the Cardinal and Purple. Bernie closed the year with 238 points or a 13.2 average.

Caron's Team Leads In I-M Bowling

Jack Caron's aggregation has started off like a whirlwind and consequently they lead the intramural bowling league.

With an impressive 820, Davey's quintet gathered the highest single game score with handicap. Feicht's five has the highest without handicap, 746. Two-hundred five is tops in the individual scoring department and Bob Ortman possesses that mark.

Fr. Wuest Talks On Chemical Properties

Turning from the physical to the chemical properties of chemical warfare agents, the Rev. Albert Wuest, C.PP.S., spoke Tuesday on acrymattors, sternutators and lung irritants.

He explained the methods of preparing these chemicals and the reactions that occur with the moisture of the atmosphere.

Modified Program Will Be Followed In Spring Baseball

"We intend to continue intercollegiate baseball and tennis this spring under a modified form. Transportation and other difficulties brought about by the war will limit considerably the size of the schedules of these two sports."

That is the summary of the decision reached by the Board of Athletics at a meeting held recently to determine the status of spring sports. Since no other college of the conference will carry on with golf, it will be dropped at Collegeville for this season at least.

No Schedule Yet

Attempts are being made to schedule Saturday afternoon doubleheaders for the baseball program. As yet, however, no schedule has been formulated.

Further enlargement of the intramural program is contemplated. The physical fitness program will be continued with more outdoor exercises. Tennis will be added to intramural activity. If possible, tennis meets for a varsity team will be arranged with other nearby schools.

Four Snipers Who Wore Puma Colors Last Time Tuesday

Creative Writers Plug For Alumni Essay Prize

With spring and the end of the school year looming in the not too distant future, the spirit of competitive writing is reaching a high pitch among the students, the objective of many being the Alumni Essay Award.

This contest, open to all students, is sponsored by the Alumni Association and offers prizes of twenty-five and ten dollars for first and second places, respectively. In order to qualify, students must by mid-April submit three typewritten copies of their work written under a pseudonym.

Several Winners On Campus

Several of the past winners are still present on the campus and are to be found in both the faculty and the student body. Writing on "Newman's Defeat," the Rev. Charles J. Robbins, C.PP.S., was the winner of the award in 1932. Richard M. Scheiber was the 1941 winner with his essay, "Mary, the Catholic Girl." Last year saw Jack Ford, a sophomore, capture both first and third places with John Goetz, a sophomore this year, taking second.

A little writing effort concentrated on some favorite subject may bring not only that first prize and that extra pocket-money, but also something really worth while to tell future grandchildren about.

Raleigh Club Men Enjoy Stag Party

Members of the Raleigh Smoking Club gathered in the fieldhouse last Saturday evening for a stag party, designed to take the place of the annual Raleigh Club dance, which was postponed this year because of the war effort.

Refreshments, in the form of a buffet supper, were served and several exhibition boxing matches made up the entertainment. Winners in the Raleigh Club tourney were also announced.

In the feature bout of the evening Gene (Corpuscle) Hoffmann, Kentucky protege of Heine Kauffmann, and P. P. Keehner's (Swinging Sammy) Husted, Fort Wayne battler, fought it out to a three-round draw.

Winners in the Raleigh Club tourney are as follows: ping-pong, J. J. Murphy; billiards, Gil Hodges; snooker, Ed Biersack; slop pool, Vasco Luchi; fifty ball, Bill Steckschulte.

Hanley Contestants Working On Essays

Contestants in the Hanley Science Award contest are hard at work on their entries according to the Rev. Clarence Kroeckle, C.PP.S., chairman of the Science Department.

Entrants, who must present their written essays by April 1, have shrouded their work with secrecy, but guarantee that the quality of the work will be on a par with that of past years.

Although the number of entries in this year's contest is smaller than in former years, the competitive spirit appears to be keener than ever. The drop in entries is due chiefly to the fact that most students are carrying heavy loads under the accelerated war program and as a consequence haven't the time to develop a suitable essay.

Oral presentation of the essays will take place on Saturday, April 17, and the winner will walk away with the $50 first prize.

Start Class Showing Use Of Slide Rule

Started last Tuesday was a class on how to use the slide rule. It will be taught each Tuesday and Friday at 7:30 by the Rev. A. Zanolar, C.PP.S.

The class will bring no class credits, and will be taught no definite length of time. It will cease when the class is well-versed in the use of the rule.

Sanguinists Meet

Members of the Sanguinist Club for Catholic Action met briefly last Monday evening and discussed tentative plans for activity for the remainder of the semester. The plans are, however, too indefinite to be announced.

The Rev. Thomas Grotenrath, C.PP.S., suggested that a lenten poster campaign be inaugurated.

Glee Club Musical

From the Rev. Robert Koch comes word that the Glee Club is working hard on the production of a musical review to be given soon in the Alumni Theatre.

The concert will probably take place towards the end of April or the earlier part of May.

Jerry Kosinski Speaks On Saint-Scientist

Speaking of the great saint for whom St. Joseph's science society is named, Jerome Kosinski, junior pre-med student, addressed the Albertus Magnus Society on the life of St. Albert the Great. The talk took place at the regular meeting of the society on Friday, Mar. 5, in Science Hall.

Kosinski related the important events in the life of the great philosopher-scientist, whose love for the natural sciences led him to many discoveries and diligent experimentation.

After a discussion of the many works of St. Albert, Kosinski concluded his address by quoting the famous statement of St. Albert in regard to the sciences: "The aim of natural science is not simply to accept the statement of others but to investigate the causes that are at work in nature—Experiment is the only safe guide in such investigations."

All new members of the Albertus Magnus Society attended this meeting and were addressed by the Rev. Albert Wuest, C.PP.S., moderator of the club, who explained to them the aims of the society and the duties incumbent upon its members. Plans for the approaching Science Day Exhibit were also discussed, and the heads of the various committees were named.

DMU Hears Lecture On Holy Priesthood

At the regular meeting of the D. M. U. Sunday the Reverend Edward Maziarz, C.PP.S., addressed the members. The topic of his talk was the dignity and importance of the Catholic priesthood. He emphasized the importance of the priest as a go-between God and man.

Eugene Stiker stated during the meeting that the clothes acquired on the recent drive around the campus would be mailed shortly to the Rev. Harold Diller, C.PP.S., at Hamilton, Ohio.

The Academy Corner

By Bob Richert

The Newman Club held their semi-monthly meeting last Friday evening, to elect officers for the second semester. Jim Carney will be president; Jim Dobe, vice-president; Charles Teany, secretary; Bob McNamara, treasurer; Augie Schultheis, critic; while Eddie Joseph, Jim McHugh, and Bob Richert were elected to the executive committee. The Rev. Robert Koch, C.PP.S., club moderator, expressed the intention of beginning a new play in the near future.

The annual tournament for the Academy students is being held this week. Finals will be held in the fieldhouse tomorrow night. As all the teams are more or less evenly matched, the tournament promises to be very interesting. This year the captains were chosen in a slightly different manner than in the past. The captains of the teams are Jerry Leahy, Rich Latendresse, Bob Meiners, Ed Mullens, John Wunderlich, Jim Quinliven, and Bob Richert.

Robert McNamara, who has been recently confined in the infirmary, was discharged last Saturday. He contracted a touch of pleurisy.

A new sophomore entered the Academy last week. He signs his name Robert Lill, and he hails from Fort Wayne, Indiana.

The seniors held their regular meeting last Saturday night with president Rich Latendresse presiding. The business transacted was the selection of last night (Tuesday) as a town night.

Eddie Joseph received a surprise package from Hawaii last Sunday. It contained a souvenir from Paul Wherle, class of '42, who is now stationed there.

Last week Jim Carney went to Chicago to enlist in the Navy. He was sworn in Friday night. He is classed as an apprentice seaman until his graduation from the Academy. Upon graduation he will be transferred to the Navy V-5. Jim is the second senior of this year's class to enlist. Jack Rieck enlisted in the Army in January and was immediately called to active duty.
